Who Are We?

INTERMOUNTAIN THERAPY ANIMALS is a human service organization, a Utah nonprofit that brings the gift of animal companionship and interaction to people in need. Our mission is to enhance quality of life through the human/animal bond. Our volunteers (people and their own pets) make regular visits to those who are physically or developmentally disabled, emotionally or psychologically impaired, lonely or suffering from depression. All services are free of charge to both client and facility.

ITA therapy animals and their handlers are screened, trained, licensed and insured to participate in animal-assisted interactions (AAI), which may be either animal-assisted activities (AAA) or animal-assisted therapy (AAT). Successful teams have completed both health and temperament screening and volunteer training.

Now nearing our 15th anniversary, we are one of the largest groups of our kind in the United States, with more than 300 volunteer teams doing animal-assisted therapy at more than 100 hospitals, counseling centers, nursing facilities, detention homes, extended care centers, and schools. Chapters of ITA now thrive in Montana, Idaho, Nevada, and Ohio.

We are also the founders of Reading Education Assistance Dogs® (R.E.A.D.®), a literacy support program to foster in children the love of books and the reading environment. R.E.A.D. has spread throughout the United States and beyond since we launched it in 1999.

Our volunteers participate in therapy visits, training, community education, and important community service. ITA animals, having passed rigorous skills and aptitude tests, are certifiably good-tempered, healthy, safe, stable, predictable, obedient and well-groomed.

Demand for the services of ITA's well-trained animal/handler teams never abates. In addition to the more than 100 institutions we are currently serving, many more facilities are on our waiting list. All services are provided at no charge to facilities and patient/clients.

If you would like to schedule a visit from Intermountain Therapy Animals, or become involved with our organization as a volunteer (either with or without your own companion animal), or if you just want more information about us and our work, please contact Executive Director Kathy Klotz at 272-3439. We welcome all who want to lend a helping paw! ♥

Message from ITA's Board President

Dear Friends,

I have been in the proverbial trenches with Intermountain Therapy Animals now for more than eight years, all that time as a volunteer team with Colonel, my Golden Retriever, and most recently as president of the ITA Board of Directors.

I have been privileged in my life to participate in many great and important causes, and I can say with great passion that there is nothing like an animal to make a dramatic and valuable difference in the everyday, real world challenges that people face. Animal-assisted therapies are a great force for good.

People of all ages and socio-economic circumstances receive devastating diagnoses and injuries every day. Future paths must veer sharply, dreams are dashed, and all these events reverberate through a patient's family as well.

Our animals come into these situations with great wisdom and intuition; they are catalysts, motivators, sources of fun and inspiration, and — they pass no judgments.

Animals the world over inspire these reactions, so work like ours may seem almost mundane or insignificant in the larger scheme of things. But nothing could be further from the truth, because each encounter, one by one, is also unique and of singular benefit. Our therapists tell us over and over, year after year, that the animals inspire cooperation, participation and progress that they cannot otherwise get from their patients.

ITA is struggling, like other charities big and small, to keep providing these crucial services as the economic world seems to be crumbling around us. We need your help to survive, to continue helping our patient/clients in over 100 healthcare facilities to heal. Please do all you can to make room for ITA on your Christmas list. Animal-assisted therapy is one phenomenon that truly does bring comfort and joy, not just in December but 365 days each year.

With sincere thanks,

Susan Daynes
ITA Board President

Caleb's Story

In July 2007 the Howard family's car was hit head-on by a car that had crossed over to the wrong side of the road. Caleb's mom, brother and sister were killed outright. Caleb survived, but suffered a traumatic brain injury and multiple broken bones.

Caleb's Grandmother, Alora Howard: "We didn't have any idea what kind of an experience we were going to have, we didn't even know if he was going to live."

Ben Howard, Caleb's Father: "Early on, before Colonel came, a lot of the progress Caleb was making was so minute that I had become fairly discouraged about his potential for recovery, but when we went into the room with Colonel there was a substantial increase in his awareness. That was a real boost for me, a turning point for me, personally, in my confidence that Caleb had the ability to recover."

AH: "I noticed that every time he would see Colonel, he was more alert, and there was an increase in his awareness. He'd forget what was "normal" and do just a little bit more than what he had previously been able to accomplish."

Lisa Barnes, Physical Therapist: "To have something much more engaging like Colonel is really helpful. The trick is getting them motivated enough to move, which can be a really hard thing. With an animal, you can immediately see they're much more motivated to try to move, to work on their goals. Colonel did that for Caleb."

BH: "In a hospital, nothing is normal. When an animal comes in, we're no longer in a hospital environment, we're in a play environment ... and the child forgets about therapy and is focused on play. It's absolutely amazing, the effect that the animal therapy has with the children."

"We saw more activity from Caleb when Colonel arrived. Caleb knows it's therapy, it's work and it's going to hurt; when Colonel comes, forget therapy, now it's playtime. That motivates him!"

Why does ITA's work matter?

Because the struggle to heal is universal, cutting across all ages and conditions and life circumstances. Illness or accident will sooner or later arrive at each of our doorsteps, affecting ourselves or our loved ones.

Therapy animals open the doors, so that healing may begin. Healing is a very personal process. A patient/client must choose to walk that often-difficult path before other supporting factors can really help.

What therapy animals do best is function as catalysts, helping patients rekindle their desire to heal, to decide that life is worth living, and to get on with the hard work of therapy.

U of U Therapist: "I can't even count the number of my patients who have said, "That's the best therapy, that's the best medicine!" One even said, in my presence, "Colonel is the best therapist in this hospital!"

"Therapy animals are a real medical tool."

Reading Education Assistance Dogs® (The R.E.A.D.® Program)

As ITA's R.E.A.D. Program begins its tenth year, the good news keeps on coming.

Cesar Millan Talks About R.E.A.D.

In his newest book, A Member of the Family, famed dog whisperer Cesar Millan mentions the R.E.A.D. Program:

"I can't imagine raising kids without dogs in the household. It simply wouldn't occur to me. Reams of recent research continue to pour in, attesting to the many benefits of dog ownership for both adults and kids. For example, some programs help kids with reading disabilities by having them read to special Reading Education Assistance Dogs (R.E.A.D.). The program creators noted that reading skills, including stuttering, improved," (pp. 258-259) and then points to our website so readers can get further information. Thanks, Cesar!

ITA's R.E.A.D.® Program Will Partner With PBS

It's the biggest news yet for the R.E.A.D. Program: PBS Television has named R.E.A.D. as a "national educational outreach partner!"

This is happening in conjunction with the debut last September of their new animated series for children based on the Martha Speaks series of books by Susan Meddaugh.

We were first contacted in November of 2007 by the Educational Outreach group at WGBH in Boston (the station that does more than 30% of PBS programming). They had researched R.E.A.D. and were eager to partner with us. In the first season, we will need to have active R.E.A.D. teams in 20 target communities around the nation, something we can easily do.

More details will be forthcoming early next year.

We are thrilled at the potential for nationwide recognition and credibility that the endorsement of PBS gives to R.E.A.D.

Susan Daynes & Colonel in the News

Honored as Utah Healthcare Heroes

Susan and Colonel were named "Utah Healthcare Heroes" in the August 2008 issue of Utah Business magazine. This is an annual feature, recognizing many physicians and other healthcare professionals, but this is the first time a canine received this distinguished recognition. Susan and Colonel were nominated by University of Utah Healthcare, and they were honored at a luncheon on September 25th at Grand America, along with the 26 other heroes.

Parents Magazine

Colonel was featured, along with a dolphin and a horse, in an article in the September 2008 issue of Parents magazine entitled "Creature Comforts," reporting on "why animal therapy can work as well as medicine." It tells of Colonel's experience with Hannah, a victim of near-drowning, whose path to recovery began in earnest when Colonel burped and she uttered her first sound in response—a giggle!

(BELOW:) Hannah, Susan and Colonel this summer at a celebration of her recovery.

ITA's Donors & Supporters 2008

[IMPORTANT: Dear Friends — We work hard to make sure our donors are properly acknowledged and recognized so you will know how much we appreciate you. But we are still working to integrate our new database, and we may not have it perfected yet. If your name should be here and it isn't, please, please contact our office (272-3439) so that we may make necessary corrections and recognize you on this page next time. We thank you with all our hearts for your faithful support of ITA and animal-assisted therapy!]

Dear Santa, please bring . . .

- Lots of 8.5 x 11" white paper by the case, for copying and printing
- (6) Ergonomic desk chairs (Our ancient donated chairs are getting dangerous!)
- New computers (our old donated machines have been well loved but are hopelessly antiquated)
- An "Easy-Up" tent for keeping our dogs in the shade during community events

Dogs may be the real
wonder drug!"
